SHOP TALK—Eileen Herschbach, Floyd Krause, and Charles Herschbach take time out to examine the fletching of an arrow. Several members of the club, including the Krause brothers, Floyd and Ralph, make their own arrows. Special targets are also made in the Krause workshop. Floyd, vice president and charter member of the club, took up archery six years ago. He has hunted big and small game in Wisconsin, Texas, and Mexico since that time. Movies of each archer in action are made by the Krauses. This enables each club member to spot the defects in his shooting form.
